Sit at the Pianola. Play! Softly the first plaintive minor chords fall. Did ever music more perfectly fit its setting? Dreamily you trace the red Metrostyle line-the guiding record of Paderewski, of Grieg, of some master musician, leading you as an infinitely patient, infinitely painstaking teacher, into the realms of Art. The music quickens. The melody rises clear above the accompaniment swinging ever more rapidly. You are all attention now. Every nerve is alert. Strike hard! Don't miss that crashing chord. Such wonderful work thiswho would bring less than his every faculty to such a task of joy?
